Tribute history

Throughout the band's history, beginning in 1984, Cold Flame have performed and recorded original blues rock music interspersed with elements of progressive folk rock. In 1997 having acquired a flautist in the band line-up, Cold Flame decided to present audiences with a separate live tribute show dedicated to the music of international progressive rock group Jethro Tull. Initially this was performed as a four-piece but very quickly keyboards were added which helped to expand the music and provide more authenticity to the Tull tribute concerts which in turn heightened interest in the group. The Jethro Tull tribute show as performed by Cold Flame over the last 23 years, has seen the band headline indoor and outdoor shows, rock festivals and blues clubs both across the UK as well as in mainland Europe. This has included headlining Jethro Tull festival Conventions in both Italy and Spain. As a result of these concert opportunities, the band have been featured on European radio stations as well as on UK local and regional radio. In recent years, Cold Flame's Jethro Tull tribute show has gained the five-piece band the reputation as one of the leading Jethro Tull tribute acts both in the UK and Europe and the band has been praised in national music magazines like 'Classic Rock' and 'A New Day'. Cold Flame have always enjoyed links with several official members of the Jethro Tull band. Cold Flame have performed with ex Tull members Clive Bunker, Mick Abrahams, the late Glenn Cornick, Paul Burgess, the late Maartin Allcock and Gerry Conway as well as Tull guest musician and international violinist Anna Phoebe and Martin Barre's current bassist Alan Thompson. Cold Flame have also supported two Jethro Tull off-shoot bands - Blodwyn Pig and Wild Turkey. Additionally, the band have worked with Italian Jethro Tull tribute act – OAK. In 2018 OAK released a progressive rock double album on Aereostella Records worldwide entitled 'Giordano Bruno' which included Pat playing bass guitar on a couple of songs as well as writing the lyrics for two further songs and providing some vocal backing. Some major names from the prog rock world including Curved Air's Sonja Christina, Dave Jackson [Van Der Graaf Generator] Richard Sinclair [Camel/ Caravan] and Martin Allcock also featured on this Tull influenced rock opera studio release.

Cold Flame have also performed the music of Jethro Tull alongside other major UK tribute bands including Whitesnake UK, Fleetwood Bac, Guns 2 Roses and Are You Experienced at various festivals around the country.

Jethro Tull I tributes 2020

In 2018 Jethro Tull celebrated their 50th anniversary with yet another world tour which saw the band enjoy sell out concerts in almost every country/ continent they played in. In fact, the tour was so successful that Ian Anderson continued the 50th anniversary tour schedule for a further eight months last year. Reflecting on the continued interest in Tull, Cold Flame have maintained their tribute show status continuing to perform both electric and acoustic Jethro Tull tribute shows around the UK as well as discussing a return to mainland Europe for additional shows in the near future. The diary is now open for 2020 with several Tull tribute shows already confirmed over the next few months and further events in the pipeline.

The tribute repertoire

Cold Flame perform Tull music from across the decades though much of the material chosen by the band is taken from the first decade in Jethro Tull's history . Material covered in these tribute concerts showcases many of the greatest hits of Jethro Tull such as Living in the Past, Locomotive Breath, Witches Promise, Aqualung and Thick as a Brick as well as lesser known Tull gems in a two hour plus show full of visual and musical highlights showcasing the collective and individual talents of the 5-piece band.
